California's Proposition 65

As we continue to work with our suppliers, we consistently review material for changes and compliance. In a recent review, we determined that some components used in the manufacturing process are subject to California's Proposition 65. A raised level of Di (2-ethylhexyl) Phthalate (DEHP) in some of our protective rubber prompts us to provide warnings for all effected products shipping into the state of California. Going forward, you will see small labels or printed warnings accompanying certain products and on our website regarding Proposition 65.

Proposition 65 requires businesses to provide warnings to Californians about significant exposures to chemicals that can cause cancer, birth defects or other reproductive harm. These chemicals can be in the products that Californians purchase, in their homes or workplaces, or that are released into the environment. By requiring that this information be provided, Proposition 65 enables Californians to make informed decisions about their exposures to these chemicals.
